

A LARGE HOTEL AND SANITARIUM

Burr Lythia Springs Co.
May Erect Buildings
There This Season.

CHICAGO MEN IN IT

Physicians Will Look Over the Ground and Plans
Made Next Thursday

STOCK TO BE ISSUED

The Burr Lythia Springs company are now considering the erection of a large hotel and sanitarium on their property this season. With this end in view they have made arrangements with a number of the most prominent doctors in Chicago to come here next Thursday on a special train to look over the grounds and to get their ideas on the subject. The promoters have visited several of the local physicians with a view of having them meet the Chicago party and accompany them to the grounds.

On Saturday next a number of the leading business men of Chicago who have signified their intention of going into the enterprise will arrive here in a special car and will be taken over the property by the promoters. Janesville will have at least two directors in the new company which will be a guarantee that they are sincere in their statements.

The property now under the control of the company embraces the finest summer grounds on the river, besides the celebrated springs. Although it has not been extensively advertised, the water from these springs is considered to be as fine as any in the world and has great medicinal properties.

DAWES WANTS TO RUN FOR SENATOR

Comptroller of the Currency Has Resigned His Position to Take Effect on October 1.

Washington, D. C., July 6.—Charles Gates Dawes has handed to the president his resignation as comptroller of the currency to take effect on October 1.

This act was the beginning of Dawes' active campaign for United States senator from Illinois. The step was not taken on impulse or on any one else's suggestion.

Dawes simply declines to be misunderstood. He is not holding one office to use it as a stepping stone to another. He intends to go to Illinois in October and begin his campaign for senator. He will not hold a federal office, drawing a salary from the government, while making that campaign.

He determined to resign weeks ago and announced his intention to the president almost immediately after the president returned from California. President McKinley as a close personal friend of Mr. Dawes, advised him to consider well his action and make up his mind before fully resigning. If determined to enter the senatorial race in earnest his proposed action was all right. If, however, he was in doubt as to his future he should not surrender one successful and promising career to try another.

Dawes told the president that he had made up his mind and that he intended to make the campaign. Thursday he handed in his resignation. This is the whole story.

FIRST REGIMENT WANTS A CANTEN

Movement Started by Officers of the National Guard for a Canteen at Camp Douglas.

Milwaukee, July 6.—A movement has been started among the national guard officers to have a canteen established at Camp Douglas reservation during the time that the national guard regiments of the state are in camp there each year. A meeting of the regimental officers of the first regiment was held last night for the purpose of putting matters into shape for submission to the officers of other regiments.

Colonel H. Falk, commanding the first regiment, says that the canteen would be of untold benefit to the men. Sunday, which has to be spent in idleness at the camp, owing to the objections raised by the church people to Sunday travel by the regiments, says Colonel Falk, productive of inordinate drinking, which a camp canteen would prevent.

Major Lynch of the independent battalion agrees with Colonel Falk. He served on various court martials during the Spanish war, but in all that time, he says, they never had a canteen drunk before them. Therefore he is in favor of the canteen.

BIG LAND FRAUDS ALLEGED.

Interior Department Officials Investigating Charges from Northwest.

New York, July 6.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says: News continues to reach the interior department indicating an extensive system of land frauds in the northwest. Thus far the revelations are confined almost wholly to Montana and Idaho. Interior department officials are inclined to believe, from the extent of the alleged frauds and the apparent system under which they have been perpetrated, that they are not confined to that area. Only a few days ago Secretary Hitchcock was informed of the finding of 102 indictments by the federal grand jury at Helena against the alleged frauds in Montana and he received a telegram saying that the federal grand jury in Idaho has returned 90 indictments for the same offenses. The Montana cases grow out of the transaction by which United States Senator W. A. Clark has obtained possession of about 14,000 acres of the public domain and timber lands in that state. It appears that Senator Clark purchased this property outright from a group of men in Montana.

LEAVES A FORTUNE FOR PUBLIC GOOD

Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York City Will Receive a Seven Million Endowment.

New York, July 6.—By the will of the late Jacob S. Rogers, the millionaire locomotive builder of Patterson, N. J., the Metropolitan Museum of Art of this city is to receive the enormous endowment fund of anywhere from $5,750,000 to $7,750,000. With the exception of eight bequests, amounting in all to only $250,000, the entire estate of the eccentric old man, who for years has led the life of a semi-recluse, is bequeathed to the museum that is devoted to matters concerning which Mr. Rogers had little knowledge and in which he was supposed to have even less interest. This princely endowment will put the Metropolitan Museum of Art on a basis of financial resources superior, probably, to that of any similar institution in the world. It raises it from a position of comparatively narrow resources to one of great affluence.

WILL GIVE LIBRARY TO SAN FRANCISCO

Andrew Carnegie Offers $750,000 for the Building—Branch Institutions May Be Arranged.

San Francisco, Cal., July 6.—Mayor Phelan is in receipt of a letter from Andrew Carnegie offering to give $750,000 to the city of San Francisco for a library building, providing the city furnishes a suitable site and appropriates $75,000 a year for maintenance. It may be should the offer be accepted, that a number of branch libraries will be constructed in addition to the main building.

MORE DEATHS FROM HEAT.

Victims of Sunstroke in Washington and Other Cities.

Washington, D. C., July 6.—The tenth day of the present heated term was again a "scorching" except where severe thunderstorms, local rains, or violent atmospheric changes cooled the weather. There were many fatalities throughout the country, however. In Arkansas, the east gulf states, northern Ohio, and New York thunderstorms brought relief. In southeastern New England also cooler weather prevailed. The records of the District health office show that for the first three days of July there were thirty deaths in Washington from sunstroke or other heat causes.

Eight Die in New York City.

New York, July 6.—There were eight deaths and twenty-eight prostrations due to the heat for the day in Greater New York.

Philadelphia Has Twelve Deaths.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 6.—There were twelve deaths from the heat and thirty-six prostrations reported to-day.

Thirteen Killed in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., July 6.—Thirteen deaths and eleven prostrations were reported to the police during the twenty-four hours ended at midnight.

Failure at Mansfield, Ohio.

Mansfield, O., July 6.—Following the failure of Willis M. Sturges, owner of the Sturges bank and the appointment of a receiver for the Mansfield Machine works, came the failure of Lyman A. Strong, of the Strong Elevator company, who also had an interest in the grain firm of Strong & Lauck of Bucyrus, O. Strong was a depositor in the Sturges bank.

Tragedy at Des Moines, Iowa.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 6.—A man of the name of F. A. Brackett and his wife were found in lodging-rooms on Second street at 10 o'clock a. m. dead. The man was shot through the forehead and the woman in the temple. It was evidently a case of murder and suicide. They hailed from Atlantic, Iowa.

MRS. MINNIE MENZIES, PRESIDENT; HONOR FOR A JANESVILLE WOMAN

Elected at Waukesha to Head the Wisconsin Library School Association—Dr. Billings for President of the National Society—Reports Made.

Waukesha, Wis., July 6.—At the close of the Wisconsin Summer School alumni reunion and banquet in this city last evening the members organized themselves into the Wisconsin Library School association with these officers:

Mrs. Minnie Menzies of Janesville, president.
Miss Jessie Hoyt of Eau Claire and M. H. Douglas of Grinnell, Ia., vice presidents.

Miss Katherine McDonald of Madison, secretary and treasurer.
The New York, Illinois and Pratt Institute library schools also held reunions and banquets.

Dr. Billings for President

Dr. John Shaw Billings of New York was nominated last night by the nominating committee of the American Library association for president, to succeed Henry J. Carr. The report of last year's meeting was adopted and Secretary F. W. Faxon reported the pleasing fact that the past year had brought 225 new members, swelling the total to an even thousand. Treasurer Gardner M. Jones showed a snug balance on the credit side of the association ledger.

KNIGHTS OF THE GRIP AT MADISON; GIDEON CONVENTION BEING HELD

Over 500 Drummers with Their Wives and Children Gathered for Religious Purposes—Janesville Traveling Men Take Leading Part.

Madison, July 6.—Five hundred traveling men—"drummers"—Knights of the Grip—as they are variously termed, are in Madison today and will remain until Monday. The occasion is the second annual convention of the society of traveling men known as Gideons.

So many men of that line of work in the city is an unusual event, and many people expect a noisy, rollicking time in the city, for traveling men are known the world over as a jolly lot who only gather together for the purpose of having "a time." But the most surprising feature of the Gideon convention here is the complete absence of this. The 500 Gideons came to Madison with their wives and children for religious worship and by far the larger portion of their time is spent in the churches. The Gideon society is an order of earnest, eager Christians. Traveling men are energetic—are not half-hearted in anything—and when they unite for religious purposes they make the religious side hum as they do the business side during the days on duty.

Rally This Morning.
The convention proper opened this morning. There was a general rally at the Methodist church at eight o'clock, followed by a prayer, addresses and reports of officers. The feature of this session was the report of National Secretary J. H. Nicholson of Janesville.

The annual business meeting will be held this afternoon. So far, no contest has developed over the election of officers, the impression being that he most of those now serving will be chosen again.

The Program Tomorrow
From 3 to 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the wives and daughters of Madison members of the order will give a reception for visiting women. This function will be held in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. A campaign programme, consisting of musical and literary numbers and short addresses, will be carried out in the auditorium of the Presbyterian church tomorrow evening. Big Farmer Kills His Neighbor.

St. Joseph, July 6.—A special to the Daily News from Albany, Mo., says: "E. A. McConkey, a young farmer, brained his neighbor, John Bryant, and Bryant's son, with a club this morning. He shot himself after the murder, but is still alive. McConkey is supposed to be insane."

Bridges and Crops Affected.

Delaware, O., July 6.—Several bridges went down stream here during a cloudburst at Sandyville and Westfield. Farm implements floated off like cork, and crops in the vicinity were destroyed to the extent of $35,000. Lightning struck four barns.

World-Be Saver Captured.

Steubenville, O., July 6.—Frank Felts, one of the Italians who assaulted the Eldenour family with stilettos across the river from this place, has been captured in the bushes along the river. He was taken to Willsburg to prevent his being lynched.

Dr. J. W. Chapman Stricken.

Winona Lake, Ind., July 6.—Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman of Philadelphia, the noted evangelist and founder of the National Bible Conference at Winona, was stricken with acute indigestion and passed into convulsions. His physicians for a time gave up all hope. He rallied, but is much worse.

LINCOLN'S BODY IS MOVED.

Placed in a Secret Vault in the Springfield Monument.

Springfield, Ill., July 6.—From reliable authority it has been announced that the body of Abraham Lincoln has been removed to a secret vault in the monument, where it may forever rest secure from any attempt of marauders. At what time the removal of the body was made is not definitely known, but it is supposed to have taken place some time Monday night or at an early hour Tuesday morning. State officials and men engaged in the work have taken every precaution to keep the matter secret and they refuse to either deny or affirm the report. It is said that the casket of President Lincoln was opened and the body was viewed by those present, who report that the features are still recognizable.

Lorillard Alive at Noon

New York, July 6, Noon.—Pierre Lorillard, the tobacco millionaire, is still alive, though several times during the night it was thought that the end was near.

GRAND FUNERAL OF EX-GOV. PINGREE

Remains Carried to the Grave Today at Detroit with Civic and Military Display.

Detroit, July 6.—The remains of Pingree were removed from the city hall to the Pingree residence at midnight. Early this morning the trains began pouring visitors into the city showing the great feeling of respect for the dead governor that is shared by the whole state.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at two o'clock at his late residence on Woodward avenue. Afterwards the militia and Masonic fraternity took charge of the remains and fired a military salute and taps were sounded at the grave. During the hour of the funeral the fire department and school bells were tolled and the business houses were closed.

ENGLISH BANKERS SEE HARD TIMES

London, July 6.—English financiers see in Russian and German industrial depression and bank failures a period of hard times which will sooner or later affect the whole world.

FOR WHITE SUPREMACY.

New Order Which Wants to Segregate the Darker Races.

Chicago, July 6.—The White Boxers is the name of a new order that is coming into public notice in Chicago. It is said to be on the socialistic order and to have ramifications all over the country. Its meetings are quasi public. Several such have been held in this city, and surface indications go to show that the society originated in the big universities. It is said to be in the third year of its existence and has a considerable fund of literature to draw from. One of its chief works is called the "Boxer Book," lately from the press, written by William Roa, said to be the nom de plume for a student of the Chicago University. The book presents some very startling propositions—one to the effect that the dark races are a menace to civilization and that it is the duty of the whites to see that the blacks, yellows and reds are exterminated, humanely, if possible. A plan is proposed which is that the darker races be confined to their present zones and placed under Caucasian International government, the duty of whose officers would be to see that the natural increase of their subjects shall not be encouraged. It is believed by the author that in the course of a few centuries the "yellow peril" can be blotted out.

The order is said to be particularly adverse to corruption in American municipal affairs and acts through imperative mandates issued to local officers.

Superintendents Certificates

Madison, Wis., July 6.—(Special)—Out of twenty applications for county superintendents' certificates, who have been taking the examination before the state board the past week not one has been successful. Examinations were held simultaneously at Madison, Appleton and Eau Claire.

Most of them will make another attempt to pass at the next examination to be held at Madison, August 13, 14 and 15.

Appointed by the President.

Washington, July 6.—The president has made the following appointments: Frederick V. Martin of Indiana, to be commissioner of immigration, port of San Juan, Porto Rico.

Paul E. McDonald, commander in the navy, on the retired list.

Paul E. McDonald and Russell M. Young, assistant surgeons, rank of lieutenant, junior grade, navy.

Wounded Falling Fast.

New York, July 6.—Dr. Austin Flint at 1:30 o'clock this morning announced that Pierre Lorillard was failing. In the opinion of the physician Mr. Lorillard is practically beyond hope, and his death may come at any minute.

KAISER MOURNS A DEAD PRINCE

Prince Hohenlohe, Ex-Chancellor of the German Empire, Dead.

WAS LONG ILLNESS

Had a Hand in Closing Affairs at End of the War With France.

ADMIRER BY PEOPLE

Berne, Switzerland, July 6.—Prince Hohenlohe, ex-Chancellor of Germany, died last night at Rahatz, where he had been for some time taking the waters with the hope of benefiting his health.

Prince Hohenlohe was born in the year 1819. He entered public life at twenty-two and almost continuously up to the time of his death he was prominently identified with the official life of Germany. He was the governor of Alsace and Lorraine for a number of years and in 1892 was appointed chancellor which position he resigned in 1900.

The prince was a great favorite with the Kaiser who mourns his death as a brother. The two men always had the closest intimacy in politics and government and even after the chancellor's enforced retirement from public life on account of ill health, the Kaiser was won't to ask for advice and guidance from Hohenlohe.

YANKEE TOURISTS ALL OVER EARTH

The Sun Has Ceased to Set for the American Traveler—They Penetrate All Parts of the World.

London, July 6.—"The Americans are literally overrunning the earth," said Manager Bredall of Cook's Tours today. He asserts that the present season establishes the yankees beyond question as the premier globe-trotters of the world. Mr. Bredall continued:

"The sun has ceased to set for American tourists. They penetrate the remotest corners of Christendom with almost the same frequency as they come to London and Paris. No itinerary is too comprehensive for them to negotiate. The steamship lines, railway companies, hotels, boarding houses and cab drivers of Europe, Asia and Africa join in confessing that Americans are now their joy and salvation."

"The traffic experts predicted that the year after the Paris exposition would witness a slump in American business. Those calculations have been upset. The Yankee is with us in fuller force than ever."

HELD SECRET FOR DAMASCUS STEEL

S. R. Dawson, Serving a Term for Murder in Iowa, is Released from the Penitentiary.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 6.—Governor Shaw has paroled S. R. Dawson, commonly known as "Damascus Steel" Dawson, who was sentenced to ten years in the state penitentiary five years ago for the murder of his son-in-law, Walter Scott. Dawson claimed to have discovered the secret of Damascus steel, which is twice as hard as ordinary steel. The formula for making it has been in a bank vault while Dawson was in prison. Capitalists associated with Dawson in a $500,000 corporation for manufacturing the steel have tried in vain to get the formula from the inventor. The steel will be used for armor plate and will revolutionize the business experts say. Dawson's crime was the murder of the man who eloped with his daughter and taunted him with it.

ENGINE PLUNGES INTO A RIVER

Fatal Railroad Wreck in Wisconsin Is Caused by Sand Washed Upon the Track.

Mosinee, Wis., July 6.—A wreck on the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad at this place resulted in probably fatal injury to Henry Phoda, a brakeman, and the destruction of five cars and the engine and tender. The wreck was caused by a heap of sand which was washed on track during the heavy rains. After leaving the track the engine ran several rods and then pitched headlong over the high rocks near the east bank of the Wisconsin river, a distance of about 100 feet.

Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let six hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, indicating that you have eaten too much, take one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. Just The Blues.

Many a woman dresses to go out, feels lonesome, sits down, and falls into a fit of despondent musing. Ask her what's the matter, and she'll probably answer "Just the blues." And what are the blues? Only another name, in general, for a disordered liver and a diseased stomach. Cleanse the liver, heal the stomach, purify the blood, and there'll be no more blues. It can be done by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine puts the diseased organs of digestion and nutrition into a condition of sound health. It eliminates from the blood all impure and poisonous substances, and cleanses the clogged liver. It contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

"I had liver complaint for the past fifteen years, complicated with dyspepsia and gall stones," writes Mrs. N. Bernier, of 461 Elm St., Oshkosh, Wis. "I doctored with seven of our prominent doctors, and not one of them have done me the good, nor begun to do what your medicines have. I have used three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, one of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and have gained about eighteen pounds since I first began to take these remedies."

JUST WHAT IT IS AND WHEREIN
BUFFALO BILL'S WILD WEST

DIFFERS FROM ALL OTHER EXHIBITIONS

AND CONGRESS OF ROUGH RIDERS

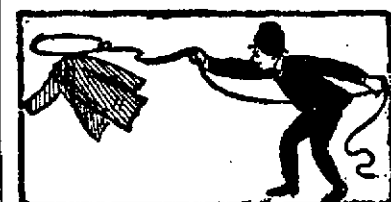

A little editorial matter on an international subject. A few facts worthy of consideration. In the first place Buffalo Bill's Wild West is not a "show" in the general acceptance of that term, but an exhibition of world-wide resource and universal interest.

It is the first, the only, and must be the last of its kind because the class to which Col. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) belongs consists of ONE. He has never had a double. Then, who can take his place? His great exhibition is absolutely original and true to nature. It is the most intensely interesting and strangest entertainment ever organized or dreamed of. It is the only real object teacher history has ever had or recreation furnished. It is a veritable mirror of heroic manhood and the camp of the makers of a nation's history. It is an academy of equestrianism where Rough Riders graduate, and those schooled in hardships participate in the hazardous sports and pastimes of which the great plains and deserts are the natural playground. It is here that one sees the reality of imperishable deeds and feats of fearless skill, fashioned by necessity. The one presentment of grim-visaged war given under the banner of pleasure in the smiling face of peace. It is here that bravest men depict the deeds that have made them famous in warfare, life saving and humanitarian acts. Men who have faced death in all its forms and successfully contended with opposing forces and fearful odds. Of such elements is the Wild West composed. Its varied features embrace, realistic battle scenes, martial pageants, dazzling reviews, savage displays of frightful war and foray. All the latest episodes of national and international events are here depicted. The allied powers of the world are faithfully represented. Boers, Britons, Cossacks and Bedouins ride side by side.

Can you beat it? No, the world will never see its like again. And best of all, everything it presents is realism itself. No made-up mummies or crafty subterfuge. Every horseman is the hero he represents. The art he employs is the lesson of a life. The garb he wears is the uniform of the nation or tribe which he represents. The very bridle that curbs the neck of a prancing steed is of regulation make and pattern, and will stand the closest scrutiny. And at the head of this mighty host rides the originator upon fame's warpath, the last of the greater scouts, to whom our army's safety was entrusted, Col. W. F. Cody (BUFFALO BILL). It will be here just as represented. The day and date is fixed. See the Grand Street Cavalcade and Review of the Rough Riders and convince yourself that all we have said is true. The admission to this marvelous exhibition is 50 cents; children under 9 years 25 cents. Reserved seats 50 cents extra and may be secured on the morning of the exhibition date at the usual place.

Just Between Ourselves

The Chicago Record-Herald editorially asserts that there are people who would consider the Fourth even more glorious if it only came once a century and I am inclined to think that lovely woman would make quite a conspicuous showing among people who do not appreciate the accepted mode of celebrating our nation's birthday. Womanhood may be timid and cowardly but she is inclined to think that the country's independence cost enough blood shed in '76 and '61, to say nothing of minor encounters. She does not deem it necessary that an additional sacrifice of life and limb be given every year to preserve the glory of the immortal stars and stripes. She sees the approach of the Fourth with fear and trembling and waits with bated breath for the whizz of the final rocket and the explosion of the last firecracker, after which she settles down to life's peaceful routine for another year.

If there is one accompanying evil of the Fourth that woman hates and fears more than another as the possible destroyer of her life's happiness it is the cannon firecracker with its deadly burden of dynamite. She is not alone in her fear of this dangerous weapon which is placed indiscriminately in the hands of children, of drunken men and of the people whose actions would be just provocation for the appointment of a fool killer. The worst thing about these dynamite firecrackers is that you cannot guard against their danger by not using them yourselves. Some small-brained person who finds the acme of joy in frightening other people and who will go into paroxysms of delight if he can make you betray that fact that you are startled or frightened, is just as apt as not to amuse himself by throwing one of these lighted abominations at you. It is through no thought or care of his that it does not explode in your face, leaving you a sightless sufferer for life. There are some graceless scamps who will throw them in to a crowd or under a spirited horse's feet, or find the rarest kind of sport in firing them off in a crowded railway train.

At the Chicago & Northwestern depot last Thursday evening a young fellow stood snapping a revolver first close to his own face and then close to that of the woman who was with him. To him it was a huge joke and he seemed to find great amusement in the senseless performance. He might have found occasion for laughing out of the other side of his mouth for if it is by no means an unheard of occurrence for accidents to happen from firearms which weren't supposed to be loaded. The man's foolishness was scarcely more to be condemned than that of the woman who permitted him to risk her life in such an inexcusable manner.

Of course there is no possible way of getting rid of all of the fools that seem to break loose in their element on the Fourth of July, but the danger from the cannon firecracker and its deadly brothers can at least be done away with. Last year after the many accidents which it caused, a cry arose from the big cities demanding legislation against the cannon firecracker. In many cities they are not sold to children but so long as carelessness is not confined to children there is no safety in an ordinance limiting the sale. The only way to deal effectively with the cannon firecracker is to forbid by law its manufacture.

There are some evils which only the Fourth of July and kindred occasions bring to the surface but there are others which we have with us always. They are many and varied in kind and for many of them there seems to be no remedy. There is one at least which should find a speedy punishment, however, and that one is the boy who finds pleasure in tormenting and giving pain to animals. In some boys there seems to be a natural viciousness and they are never happy unless they are torturing something. Perhaps it is in twisting the cat's tail, pulling the wings off from flies, tying tin cans to a dog's caudal appendage or stoning birds but they are continually at something. One of these cruel youngsters has found his pleasure for some time past in wounding the pet squirrels which run free among the trees which abound on the spacious grounds surrounding the home of Mrs. Frances Tallman, 212 North Jackson street. The squirrels have been tamed because they know that they live among friends and large numbers of them make their home on the grounds where they have carefully been encouraged to feel perfectly safe. Mrs. Tallman was pleased to have this so and she takes a great deal of pride and pleasure in her family of outdoor friends. But their peace and happiness has been rudely disturbed by a missile at the squirrels. This misanthropic enemy, a small boy who hurls a stone at a squirrel, a nail and a feather and is a cruel invention which flies unerringly to the mark. The boy has wounded several of the squirrels and Mrs. Tallman fears that the little animals will be scared from their homes. She has remonstrated with the boy to no purpose, but perhaps a police officer will be able to convince him that he has no right to injure a person's pets on that person's own property. If the boy hasn't heart enough to regret the pain which he has inflicted, the law may find a way of reaching him that he will feel. Wanton cruelty on the part of children cannot be discouraged too much or punished too severely. It is a criminal instinct which the community cannot afford to have fostered.

SMOKE A CIGAR IF YOU CAN'T SLEEP

All Sorts of Poor Remedies to Bring Slumber to Weary Eyes These Hot Nights.

In these hot nights even some of the persons who have no unphilosophical quarrel with the weather, may find it a little harder than usual to fall asleep; and the unfortunate souls who have an especial gift for lying awake are forced to kick and roll more than usual. What is a poor devil to do who can't sleep? Slumber-charming drugs are out of the question. To become dependent upon them is worse than to be a hanger-on of insomnia. The mechanical tricks of repeating poetry, or the multiplication table, or nursery rhymes are not likely to work, save with beginners. The nerves are not to be fooled often by such palpable devices. Hot milk, hot baths are old stories to the practiced insomniac; and who wants them at this time of year? Light, late supper, beer and so on are usually only more burden for a mutinous stomach.

"Get up and take exercise," say sympathizing friends. Now who is going to get up on a hot night and swing Indian clubs, pull weights, or even do gentle stunts without apparatus? "Muscular relaxation and a mind emptied of thoughts are the preliminary requisites," says Dr. J. L. Mitchell in Harper's Bazar. Muscular relaxation! Well, that shows the folly of exercise. But how is the lassness to be obtained? Various authorities say that you must become absolutely limp, unbrace yourself, become as soft as soap so as to offer no resistance, to be in the receptive mood, when Sleep may be pleased to call. But you are in the receptive mood. It is not you, but sleep, that is coy. And there seems to be some hint of witchcraft or Christian Science in this recipe. Lie awake a few hours, and you are limp and lax enough, but no more somnolent than before.

Then how is the mind to be "emptied of thought?" There again is a sort of magical process for an impossibility. How is the mind to be emptied of thought by filling it with the thought that it must be emptied? You can think yourself into nervousness by trying to think thought out of your thinker, but you will not fill yourself with sleep by trying the emptying remedy. Sleep is an eccentric humorist. He likes his little joke. He likes to surprise you in church, or in the elevated car just before you come to the station, or in your little bed just before you must get up to take a train and after you have been called. "You will get nothing out of the rascal by form and orderly proceedings. Let him see that you are a fellow after his own heart and can be as whimsical as he. Let there be no clock or watch in the room. Then you won't have to get up to see what time it is. If you smoke, smoke a cigar in bed. It is an infallible means for inducing sleep with some people. There are many excellent fire insurance companies; and should anything happen you would never wake up. This is serious advice. There is no other remedy for sleeplessness that equals the smoking of a cigar in bed. If you must read, either the first or second volume of the Hon. Gamaliel Bradford's masterpiece will serve your turn. But it isn't always necessary to read. Think of the Hon. Edwin Markham reading rapidly and forever "The Man With the Hoe." Perhaps that is as near to emptying the mind as it is safe to go.—N. Y. Sun.

SMALL WHITE WORM RUINS ONION CROP

Good Onions When Harvested This Fall Will Probably Be Worth Considerable Money.

The onion crop this year promises to be very small indeed, and what good onions are harvested will probably be worth considerable before the close of winter. The crop will average only a small part of what it should, as the outlook early this spring was very promising.

The cause of this deficiency in the crop is what is known as the onion magot, which is destroying the young onions all over this section of the country, and which promises to devastate whole gardens before the onions are ready for gathering.

The onion worm is small and white from a quarter to half an inch in size when grown, and which, like all of its kind, multiplies very rapidly, and when once introduced into a bed of onions it is practically impossible to destroy them. The magot attacks the onion stalk and not the onion itself. It imbeds itself in the center of the stalk and then cuts its way out making a clean cut directly through the stalk, which is then left to wither and die. The onion, of course, does the same.

The magot did considerable damage last season, but its work this year will surpass that of last. In some of the market gardens about the city, whole rows, running the width of the garden, will have only a few green stalks left standing, and it is claimed that in watching an onion bed which is being attacked by the magots, the tops can be seen to fall on every side, so rapid is the work of devastation. The onion magot confines itself to the onion and the surest way to prevent an attack of the crop of the following year is said to be to change the location of the onion bed and use the old ground for some other purpose.

CHARCOAL BURNING NOW A LOST ART

Gas and Gasoline Has Displaced It as a Heat Producing Substance—The Burner.

Charcoal burning in the United States in population estimates. In Wisconsin, Ohio, and Pennsylvania, a comparative few still follow the lonely life that is theirs because of circumstances. They are gypsies with a purpose.

Charcoal in its perfect state, is a baked, not a burnt wood. Here is the distinction that keeps the charcoal burner awake sometimes from 48 to 60 hours at a stretch, especially if he be alone.

For the baking of charcoal the wood is piled in a circle around a central pit, leaving the interstices through which the heat from the fire burning in the center may circulate to the outer edge of the pile. Turf is piled over all until the pile resembles a volcano. It is the object to keep this wood covered until it can not break into a blaze. High winds are troublesome. The sign of trouble in a kiln is a thin blue smoke that points to a fire in the wood. This fire is put out by smothering from the outside.

Only experience teaches when the charcoal is sufficiently baked. When that period is reached it has lost about three-fourths of its weight. An old observation is to the effect that "ten horses will draw the wood and three horses will draw the charcoal States, so far as the product concerns the cities, gives promise of becoming a lost art. Gas and gasoline have almost displaced it as a heat producing substance. With the thinning of the forests, too, the source of supply is cut. Chicago cooks long ago abandoned the charcoal stove. The brazier, the tinsmith and the plumber gave up the use of charcoal heaters years ago. As a lining for refrigerators it has been declared to be redundant for the reason that an air space is better. It has been displaced in filters. It is no longer used in making gunpowder.

Yet in the woods of Michigan, especially in the vicinity of Traverse City, the charcoal burner is a figure away. The slower the wood has baked, the more substance and weight will be in the coals.

When the pyre has burned sufficiently, the fire is put out by drenching the heap with water. Even after hundreds of gallons have been poured on the heap it may take three days for it to cool sufficiently for the charcoal to be removed. A kiln will produce 200 or 250 bushels of the coals.

The charcoal burner leads a gypsy life. His cabin is near by the kilns, and in it is the picturesque disorder that is natural to a man in the woods. His kitchen utensils are most in evidence. His bed is wholly secondary. He eats to live and lives to work with only an occasional "spree" in some nearby town. In the woods sobriety is everything to his craft.

He is a wonder to the visitor, as he plunges into thick smoke and heat, and works in the choking fumes with the fortitude of a samurai. When the kiln is working best the smoke and fumes are worst, and to keep the kiln so necessitates the constant attention of the burner. These fumes are considered detrimental to health under ordinary circumstances, but the compensating life in the woods seems to make the charcoal burner a hardy specimen of his race.

MODES FOR WOMEN.

Sleeves are growing more and more complicated. A favorite sleeve on linen gowns is the modified bishop gathered into a close cuff. Especially attractive are those in which the cuff is of coarse Russian embroidery to match collar or revers.

A pretty sleeve for a tailor gown is close to the elbow, flaring into a point just below. Under this is a large puff of liberty silk harmonizing in color with the gown, gathered into a tight cuff five inches deep of white cloth fastened with small fancy buttons. The underblouse could be of liberty silk with a trimming of buttoned straps of the white cloth about the neck and down the front.

A good sleeve for a summer jacket is short, ending half way between the wrist and elbow, and slashed on the outside of the arm to allow the sleeve of the bodice to show.

A sleeve that looks well on a light cloth gown flares slightly below the elbow and ends half way between this point and the wrist. It is trimmed with three stitched straps on the inside of the arm, the upper one at the elbow. On the outside the sleeve is slashed to the elbow and laced by means of small buttons. The inner sleeve instead of the usual puff, is of lace in a straight piece, that flares slightly more than the dress sleeve, is open on the outside of the arm, and ends at the wrist.

TOBACCO NOTES.

Thousands of tobacco plants as well as a great deal of labor has been lost in attempting to transfer plants from the beds to the fields during the extreme heat of the past week. With the thermometer ranging above 90 for a number of consecutive days, it seems like the height of folly to attempt to make tobacco plants survive transplanting, and wherever the growers have continued this work during the week it has been attended with failure.

The hot parching winds have burned up the plants and left the fields with such poor stands as to require as much labor in re-setting as to replant the entire fields by the machine. Most of the land planted last week has been re-ditched and the farmers will try again when the conditions are more favorable. The only safety in times like these lies in waiting. Keep the beds alive and suspend the planting operations until the heated term has passed. Fortunately the greater bulk of the crop was out and safely rooted before the extreme weather came which has survived the ordeal. The anxiety of growers to complete the work of transplanting has prompted many to continue the work hoping the hot spell would not continue so long. But a lesson has been taught not soon to be forgotten in the losses that have occurred this season.

The losses sustained by the tobacco growers in Vernon county this week in the destruction of tobacco sheds by severe storms, call to mind that the season of heavy winds is again at hand. The damage to tobacco farmers sustain every year by the blowing down and unroofing of curing sheds must amount to a good many thousand dollars throughout the state. During the summer while these buildings are light and empty they present broad surfaces to a storm and are easily moved from their foundations and broken and demolished.

The growers have learned by experience that their curing barns must be more strongly constructed and firmer braced and the posts securely anchored to withstand the usual summer storms. The builders of new permanent sheds now take notice of all these requirements and a better class of buildings are taking the place of the curing sheds of a few years ago. Until this transformation takes place the loss to tobacco growers will continue to cut a considerable figure every year.—Edgerton Reporter.

DANGER IN OATMEAL DIET.

Next to Americans, the Scotch are the Greatest Dyspeptics.

The Scotch are the greatest dyspeptics on earth, largely owing to the use of half-cooked oat meal and soft bread. Next to the Scotch are the Americans, and no single thing has contributed more to American dyspepsia than half-cooked oatmeal mush for breakfast. In rural France, where dyspepsia is practically unknown, hard bread and vegetables, with a very moderate amount of meat, comprise the chief items of the bill of fare. Take the center out of a hot biscuit and roll it a minute in your hand, and it soon becomes a solid mass of dough, a "lead pill." That is the thing your stomach has to wrestle with when it attempts to digest hot bread or biscuit. A good deal of the cold bread is just about as bad. Such food may be nutritious for the chap in the circus, who relishes ground glass and eats swords and tenpenny nails, but it shortens the lives of average people.

Mothers write us that they have solved the problem of keeping their children well. Give them Rocky Mountain Tea each week. A blessing to mother and child. Smith's Pharmacy, Kodak agents, Next P. O.

THIS HOT WEATHER MAKES BAD FISHING

Blazing Sun Sets the Fish to Feeding at Night—Half Hour Before Sundown Is Best.

The week just ended has been one of the hottest known for a long time and a poorer week for angling could hardly have been found if the angler had consulted all the rules and theories regarding good fishing.

Yet, strange as it may seem, fishermen who were at some of the lakes in lower Wisconsin less than a week ago found that the bass fishing was better than it had been at any time during the season.

One peculiarity about this hot weather fishing is that it usually sets the fish to feeding at night. As a matter of course, the fish must eat some time, the same as a human being, and although there may be periods when for several days, a fish does not take much food, it is apt to feed to some extent every twenty-four hours.

A fish, like a human being, seems to dislike the glare of the sun, and it is notorious that the overcast day is much better than the bright and sunshiny one. This same fish, along late in the evening of a summer day, when the rays of the sun are not so direct upon the water, when the frogs are beginning to move about and the flies to appear on the water, may conclude that he desires a square meal. The half hour just before sundown is the best one for the fly fisherman, and the last couple of hours of daylight will be found the best for bait fishing.

The muskellonge fishermen have been having a little reward for their efforts of late. One good fish of nearly thirty-two pounds was taken from a lake near Mercer about a week ago. This is the largest fish of which any authentic word has come down this season.

In heated weather like this, it is well to bear in mind the fact that the fish are apt to feed at night. The trout fisherman, especially, is the one to benefit most by this knowledge. A hungry blue or pickerel may take a notion to eat at almost any time or in any kind of weather. Even a bass will sometimes change his schedule and bite when he is not expected to. With the trout however, the general rule obtains, that the bright, warm weather sets them down, and many a trout angler has fished patiently day after day in mid-summer without getting anything to reward his efforts.

Venus Becoming a Brilliant Evening Star—Jupiter is Conspicuous.

The following astronomical data for July is furnished by the Washburn Observatory at Madison.

Mercury has ceased to be visible as an evening star and will pass through inferior conjunction July 12. After this date it will rise before the sun and may be seen as a morning star the last week of the present month, as the planet approaches greatest elongation west. Venus is becoming conspicuous as the brilliant evening star. The planet may be seen low in the northwest sky after sunset and it sets at nearly the same point of the horizon as the sun.

Mars is past its favorable season for observation, but the planet is still visible in the evening as it sinks toward the west point of the horizon. The most conspicuous planet at the present time is Jupiter, which appears as a brilliant star in the southeastern sky in the early evening, and reaches the meridian far south some time before midnight. The planet is followed by the next large member of the solar system, Saturn, which appears as a bright star east and a little north of Jupiter, but far less brilliant.

The times of sunrise and sunset for the month are as follows: July 1, 4:16 a. m.; 7:30 p. m.; July 11, 4:22 a. m.; 7:31 p. m.; July 21, 4:20 a. m.; 7:24 p. m.; July 31, 4:40 a. m.; 7:15 p. m.

The times of the moon's phases are: Full moon, July 1, 5:18 p. m. Third quarter, July 8, 9:20 p. m. New moon July 15, 4:10 p. m. First quarter, July 23, 7:58 a. m. Full moon July 31, 4:34 a. m.

The principal fixed stars visible during the month are: In the evening hours, to the west, Arcturus and Spica; near the meridian, Antares; to the east, Vega and Altair.

THE GIBSON GIRL.

The Steel-Engraving lady sat by the open casement, upon which rested one slender arm. Her drapery sleeve fell back, revealing the alabaster whiteness of her hand and wrist. Her glossy, abundant hair was smoothly drawn over her ears, and one rose nestled in the coil of her dark locks.

Suddenly a heavy step was heard upon the stair. A slight blush mantled the Steel Engraving Lady's cheek.

"Can that be Reginald?" she said. The door flew open and on the threshold stood the Gibson girl.

"Excuse me for dropping in upon you," she said with a slight nod, tossing a golf club down on the sofa near by. "You see I've been appointed to write a paper on extinct types, and I am anxious to scrape acquaintance with you."

The Steel-Engraving Lady bowed a trifle stiffly. "Won't you be seated?" she said with dignity.

The Gibson girl dropped into a low chair, and crossed one knee over the other; then she proceeded to inspect the room; whilst meanwhile a snatch from the latest comic opera. She wore a short skirt, and heavy square toed shoes, a manish collar, cravat and vest, and a broad rimmed felt hat tipped jauntily on one side. She stared quite fixedly at the occupant of the apartment, who could with difficulty conceal her evident annoyance.

"Dear me! you are just as slender and ethereal as any of your pictures," she remarked speculatively. "You need fresh air and exercise; and see the color of my hands and face beside your own."

The Steel-Engraving Lady glanced at her vis-a-vis, and shrugged her shoulders.

When the sun set, the Steel-Engraving Lady might have been seen again seated beside the open casement. Her taper fingers lightly touched the strings of her guitar as she hummed a low lullaby. Once more she heard a step upon the stair, and once again the color mantled her damask cheek, and she murmured "Reginald." A tall and ardent figure came swiftly toward her. He dropped upon one knee, as if to pay due homage to his fair one, and raising her white hand to his lips, whispered, "My queen, my lady love."

And at this moment the Gibson Girl was seated upon a fence, swinging her heavy boots, while an athletic looking youth beside her busied himself with a corn-cob pipe.

"I say, Joe," he said, with friendly accent, "just you hop down in front of me and keep the wind off while I light this pipe."

And the night breeze sprang up and murmured, "Hail the new woman,—behold she comes apace! Woman, once man's superior, now his equal."—Caroline Ticknor, in the July Atlantic.

REALLY, THERE'S NO HEAT.

Christian Science Propaganda Offered to them that Stand and Wait.

She was plump, at least, and well along in years. She was in one of those big department stores shopping. This kind of weather is not the pleasantest in the world for shopping. Customers and clerks are both on edge and when one woman shoves another there are cross looks and muttered insults.

It was just about noon when—well partly—woman went up to the lace counter. The saleswoman was sweating prodigiously.

"Have you a fan?" she said to the customer.

"No, thank you," replied the woman. "I'm not warm."

"Not warm?" exclaimed the saleswoman, hotly. "Oh, no. I've got a chill."

"Now, really, you are not warm," repeated the other. "You just think you are. There is no such thing as heat. You just imagine it. That is all."

"Humph!" grunted the shop girl, wiping the perspiration off her face. "Say, Maud," she said to one of the other girls, "the lady says it isn't hot."

"She ain't a saleslady, or she wouldn't say that," replied Maud, emphatically.

"Now, girls," went on the customer as sweetly as though she had been remanded to her class, "if you believed as I do, if you were Christian Scientists, you wouldn't be warm, for there is no such thing as heat and you would never lose your tempers, either."

Then the customer moved calmly on through the store, looking cool as a cucumber and apparently entirely unruffled.

"Well, wouldn't that make you mad?" inquired the other girl of the lady's nutty. And I hope she keeps out of this store, for she makes me hot, just to look at her."—N. Y. Sun.

TEACHERS WHO GO TO DETROIT

SUP'T MAYNE AND A LARGE DELEGATION FROM JANESVILLE.

Will Attend Annual Convention of the National Educational Association To Be Held in the Michigan City Next Week—Many of Them Will Stop Over at Buffalo.

Supt. D. D. Mayne and a large delegation of teachers from the Janesville public schools will attend the fortieth annual convention of the National Educational Association to be held in Detroit next week. The general sessions of the convention will open Tuesday morning and the convention will come to a close on Friday, June 12.

The Janesville delegation of teachers will include Misses E. May Clark, Emma Paulson, Bertha Sayles, Helen Welch, Cora Spear, Cora Clemons, Luella Hill, Jessie Rensigie, Kate Nelson, Minnie Joyce, Margaret Joyce and Lizzie Murray. Misses Welch, Harris, Rensigie and Hill have already started for Detroit and the balance of the party, with the exception of Miss Paulson and Supt. Mayne will go to Detroit next Tuesday. Miss Paulson will make the trip by boat from Mackinac and she will be accompanied by Miss Louise Hanson, of this city, who left for Mackinac this morning.

The majority of the teachers will visit the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, Cleveland and Chautauqua before returning home. Supt. Mayne, Miss Paulson and Miss Sayles, will remain at Chautauqua to study. Miss Clark will visit relatives at Cleveland for some time and Miss Clemons will also visit at Cleveland, being the guest of Mrs. W. C. Rhodes. Quite a number of delegates will find pleasure in visiting Rev. Pence and family while at Detroit.

It is estimated that fully 300 Wisconsin teachers will attend the Detroit convention for which an exceptionally fine program has been arranged.

Wisconsin will be well represented on the program of the convention. In the kindergarten and child study department Prof. M. V. O'Shea of the Wisconsin university will read a paper on "Work and Play in Adolescence." Charles De Garmo, formerly a teacher at the university, but now at Cornell, will deliver an address before the elementary education department on the "Economic Basis of Art." In the department of science, instruction N. A. Harvey formerly of the West Superior High school, but now of Chicago, will preside at the convention and deliver the annual address. William George Bruce of Milwaukee, secretary of the department of school administration, will read a paper on "School Room Temperature and Humidity." Prominent among those who will attend the convention from Milwaukee will be President Charles McKenny, W. H. Cheever, and C. E. Cary of the Normal school and J. A. Diedrichsen of the Tenth District school.

Mrs. D. D. Mayne and sons will leave Monday for Lake Kegonsa where they will spend a month during which time Supt. Mayne will be at Detroit, Buffalo and Chautauqua. It had been hoped that Mrs. Mayne would be able to make the eastern trip with her husband but her health will not permit.

NOW USES COMPRESSED AIR

A barbers' spraying apparatus has been installed in the tonsorial parlors of William Hough, in Hotel Myers, and is becoming very popular with the patrons. After a hair cut this new compressed air device takes the place of a brush in clearing the head of short clippings. After a shave it is used to dry the face and spray the different lotions, while it also performs the part of a rapid and efficient dryer for the hair after a shampoo.

In order to have a constant supply of compressed air, a small hydraulic compressor forces the air into a galvanized storage tank which is set up in some corner of the shop or in the basement. From this tank a supply pipe is run along the front of the barber's cabinet, to which are attached short leads of flexible tubing fitted with patent cut-offs, which enable the barber to regulate the flow of air.

The appliance of compressed air to the face after a shave produces a delightful sensation and refreshes the tired customer, especially in warm weather.

The Bishop & Babcock Co. of Chicago are the originators and manufacturers of the Barbers' Compressed Air Spraying Apparatus.

Union Sunday School Picnic

The Congregational, Presbyterian, Baptist and two Methodist Sunday schools will join in a union picnic at Geneva lake, on Wednesday, July 17. Committees from the various churches met last evening and discussed the plan which found hearty favor. F. A. Spoon was chairman of the meeting and Miss Grace Kirk was secretary. The following executive committee, including one member from each Sunday school, was appointed to make all arrangements for the excursion, H. J. Cunningham, J. F. Wortendyke, W. H. Rose, J. L. Hay and Archie Crawford. The excursion will be over the Chicago & Southeastern line to Walworth and from there by the electric line to the lake.

MATERIAL FOR THE NEW ELECTRIC LINE

Construction Work on the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Road Begun at Rockford.

Things at present are moving slowly with the Beloit, Delavan Lake & Janesville electric line. Quite a large amount of material has been shipped to Rockford where the work on the line will commence.

A large number of fence posts have been shipped by Pendleton & Gilkey and other supplies are pouring in on them.

It is not so much the scarcity of supplies that is holding the work back as it is the people of Beloit at a last meeting of the council refused to extend the contract to fifty years or to allow the company to change the style of the rail.

In all probability the power house and carshop will be in South Beloit as the company now has an option on ten acres of ground just across the line in Illinois. The idea of the company in putting the power house in Illinois is that the freight rates are considerably lower than in Wisconsin. Mr. Clough is now in Elmhurst, O., but he will be here again in a few days.

NEW RURAL ROUTE CAUSES TROUBLE

The establishment of the new rural postal delivery route and the consequent abandonment of the postoffice at Center has caused considerable inconvenience to many people who have been accustomed to get their mail at Center. The free delivery system was put in operation on the first day in July and the postoffice was discontinued a few days before, consequently the country people who called at the Center postoffice for their mail and who do not live on the rural route had no opportunity to make arrangements for their mail. The new rural route has its starting point at this city and there is a large quantity of Center mail lying in the local office, which belongs to people who cannot be reached by the rural route. The postoffice here does not know what to do with the mail, the people to whom it belongs evidently do not know how to get it and while matters will doubtless adjust themselves to the new order as they always do, the condition at present is an inconvenient one. The people do not know where their mail is and the postoffice does not know what to do with it.

In order that subscribers of The Gazette, who are affected by this state of affairs, may secure their papers as usual, a wagon has been sent out from this office to make a personal delivery of the papers. The Gazette will be the only mail many people have received since the closing of the office at Center.

ANNOUNCEMENT EXTRAORDINARY.

The People of Janesville will be Glad To Know That a Strong Company Is At Last
To Properly Develop the

BURR LITHIA SPRINGS!

They will be more pleased to know that they are not to be denied, the privilege of securing an interest therein at Ground Floor Rates.

What Has Been Done.

The Burr Lithia Springs Co will be organized with a capital of $400,000, for the purpose of improving these springs and marketing their output, which as you probably know is unlimited. The property comprising 470 acres has already been acquired, and plans for erecting bottling works and marketing the water are already well matured. The water from these springs is well and favorably known in Milwaukee and Chicago, and with the proper equipment an immediate market can be made for thousands of gallons daily. Traffic and shipping facilities of the most advantageous character, have already been arranged, and enough stock has been spoken for in Chicago and Milwaukee to insure early operations.

What Can Be Done.

The analysis of the Burr Spring water far excels that of any other Lithia water on the market, and it is only necessary to get the water before the consumer to create an enormous demand for it. The success of "Londonderry," "Buffalo," "Appollinaris," "Poland," "Red Raven," "White Rock" and other waters, shows to what an enormous extent and profit water can be sold. The Burr Spring water, superior to any other Lithia water sold, can be bottled and sold at a net profit of $1.00 per dozen quarts. There is a never failing supply from these springs, estimated at one million gallons daily—enough to make every man in Janesville rich in five years if the springs are properly developed and the output marketed. The investment required is small and the returns promised are very large.

What Is Being Done.

It is the desire of the Company to have Janesville people interested in its stock to a liberal extent, and to that end an opportunity will be offered them for subscribing to its shares on the most liberal basis made to anyone. SOME GOOD RACES AT FAIR GROUNDS

Albert Schaller's "King Al" Won the 2:40 Trot—Quite a Crowd Attended the Meet.

Those who attended the races at Bostwick's park yesterday afternoon were agreeably surprised in the quality of the entertainment given. It reminded the spectators of the days when the Janesville Driving Park association was flourishing and race meetings second to none in the Northwest were given by them. In those days twice a year hundreds of people gathered here to see the races and left thousands of dollars with the merchants and hotel keepers of the city. All of this is now passed and the people of the city can consider themselves lucky to be able to witness an afternoon's sport like was given yesterday.

The horses competing yesterday for honors all belonged in the county. From the way they stepped off the miles it would seem that the horse business in Rock county is not entirely dead and that there are a few good ones yet. The attendance was fair; a number of the spectators coming from the surrounding cities and towns. The track was in good condition, but terribly dusty. The first race was the free-for-all trot and pace for a purse of $150 which had three starters. On account of sickness Aunt Laura was drawn after the second heat. The result was: Elrod, b. g., Joe Bassett Clinton, 3-1-1; Col. Diston, b. g., Charles Mabbitt, Edgerton, 1-2-2; Aunt Laura, c. m., Fisher Stock Farm, 2-3-dr. Time: 2:22½; 2:19½; 2:24½.

But two horses started in the 2:20 trot and pace. It was a race from start to finish. Bucyrus had a little the best of it and won the first and third heats by a close margin. The heats were for a mile the time being kept only from the half home: Bucyrus, b. g., J. Bassett Clinton, 1-2-1; Mendola, b. m., J. Conway, Edgerton, 2-1-2. Time: 1:09; 1:08½; 1:10½.

The 2:40 trot and pace was the prettiest race of the afternoon. It was won in a handy way by Albert Schaller's handsome bay gelding, King Al, driven by H. D. McKinney in straight heats. In the second heat King Al made a break at the first turn, and by the time he squared away the leaders were a long distance ahead. Mr. McKinney sent the bay gelding along and caught the leader at the lower end of the home stretch, beating him home by a neck. The races were mile heats, the time being kept from the half home. The finish was as follows: King Al, b. g., A. Schaller, 1-1; Hemmill, c. g., J. Huggins, 2-4; Dr. L., b. g., E. Tallard, 5-2; b. m., Huggins Bros., 3-3; Agnes Wilkes, b. m., W. Willeman, 4-5. Time: 1:12; 1:15½.

Oscar F. Nowlan acted as starter and Henry Talmadge of Beloit, J. W. St. John and James Scott as judges and timers. A. F. Phillips kept the records.

Dougherty Got Gay
John Dougherty and Louis "Biddy" O'Rourke were before the municipal court yesterday charged with taking $25 from the person of Bert Nelms, on the morning of July 4th. Nelms and a friend went to sleep in the shade of the trees and it was during the time that O'Rourke and Dougherty relieved him of his cash. Chief Hogan was notified of the theft and soon had the two in the lock-up. Their examination was adjourned until July 11, at two o'clock. During the proceedings Dougherty got gay and said some uncomplimentary things to the court and was held for contempt. He will have a hearing after the robbery charge is disposed of.

SWELL SOCIAL EVENT

Morning Breakfast Given by Miss E. L. Williams, in Honor of Mrs. Rufus Roys of Saginaw.

One of the swellest social events given in this city for some time was the morning breakfast at which Miss E. Louise Williams was the hostess and Mrs. Rufus Roys, of Saginaw, Mich., was the guest of honor. The breakfast was given this morning at Miss Williams' home, 121 Madison street. Invitations were issued to about sixty of her friends for 9:30 o'clock and there were but few regrets.

Miss Florence Spooner waited on the door for Miss Williams and after the greeting of the guests was over the ladies were seated at the card tables with which the pleasant parlors of the home were filled. The parlors were decorated with great bunches of flowers whose fragrance filled the cool, shaded rooms. Six-handed euchre was the game played and the morning hours sped swiftly and pleasantly by.

Breakfast was served at twelve o'clock. It was an elaborate and appetizing repast faultlessly served in four courses. The menu was elegant and in perfect keeping with the novelty of the entertainment, a novelty which was carried out in the unique favors which Miss Williams chose to lay at each corner. Instead of the customary carnation or rose, and old-fashioned pink hollyhock lay in its quaint beauty at each place. Investigation proved that each blossom was provided with a hair pin, ready to adorn my lady's crown of glory.

Miss Williams was assisted in serving the breakfast by Mesdames A. F. Spooner, Horace McElroy and Ida Greene and by Misses Sybil Nash, Helen Nash, Ruth Culver and Louise Crosby.

Fred L. Dickerman, an old Janesville boy, and one of the best of them at that, now chief clerk of the rail way mail service, with headquarters at Milwaukee, was greeting his host of old friends yesterday.

BEYOND DOUBT.

These Facts Must Convince Every Janesville Reader.

That which follows is the experience of a resident of Janesville. Incredulity cannot exist about the statement because it can easily be investigated.

Mr. H. P. Hanson, of 103 Pleasant St., engineer, employed at the Janesville Machine Co., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me all the good that could be expected and I recommend them to any one who may be troubled with a lame back or any kidney disorder. After procuring them at the People's drug store and taking them I felt better slept better, my back did not ache like it did, and I did not rise in the morning with a lame and sore back. I suffered from these symptoms for four or five years and I was more than pleased at the results obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Start Girls Right!

Many beautiful girls become invalids for life, because at the crucial period of puberty they pay no attention to the laws of health. Mothers should protect their daughters' health by giving them necessary information and proper treatment. When the menses come on a girl unawares in her inexperience she is either frightened into convulsions, or scared into trying to check the flow. Many girls have checked the flow and it has never started again. And as a result they have grown pale-faced, with "crow's-feet" on their cheeks, and dark half-moons under their eyes. A dose of taken every morning after a girl is twelve years old will bring the menses on properly and keep them regular. It will help her to develop into attractive womanhood and equip her for the duties of wife and motherhood. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

The Hollywood, Asbury Park, N. J., February 3, 1900.

I read your advertisement in regard to Wine of Cardui in the Baltimore American, and it so favorably impressed me that on my visit to Baltimore during the holidays I purchased a bottle of it for my adopted daughter, who was suffering with female troubles. She had been under the doctor's care for some time, and when her periods would come on her suffering was something terrible. I induced her to try it and the first dose brought on her menses. She took it regularly according to the directions, and was greatly relieved. To use her own words, "It saved my life." J. WESLEY CROSS.

E. BURNHAM INDORSES

DANDERINE

The Only Perfect Hair and Scalp Tonic.

Mr. Burnham, 71 State St., Central Music Hall, conducts the oldest, finest and best known Hair Dressing Establishment in the city of Chicago. He has had twenty-five years' experience in dressing and treating the hair and scalp; and has tested numerous hair preparations during that time. He, therefore, is in position to recognize merit when it exists in a hair tonic. The people of Chicago know Mr. Burnham well enough to appreciate the value of his testimonial.

READ WHAT HE SAYS:

Knowlton Danderine Co., Feb. 23d, 1901
Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:

It is with no little gratification that I give Danderine my hearty indorsement and support. I was induced to put it in stock through the splendid indorsement given you by Jessie Bartlett Davis. It has proven its merits to such an extent that I have found it almost indispensable among my customers; its results are positive and permanent.

Respectfully,

E. Burnham

This Lady started with a 25c Bottle.

Miss Mac Comb used Danderine regularly for twenty consecutive months, and the average growth of her hair during that time was one and one-fourth inches per month. By permission we herewith reproduce her photograph and state that she has lived in Chicago all her life and is well known in the city, especially on the south side. Her hair before she commenced the use of Danderine would not reach below her waist, while now it touches the floor when she stands erect. This remarkable growth is the result of using Danderine, the greatest of all hair and scalp invigorators, regular as a dressing.

It Gave Her Hair New Life

and will do the same for you if you give it a fair trial. Danderine puts new life and vigor in both the hair and the scalp. It makes the hair fluffy and silky and there seems to be no limit to the growth it will produce. There is no other that can be compared to it, as it is founded on new ideas altogether.

TO THE PUBLIC

By Request of Miss Mac Comb we reproduce the following letter:

KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO.,

Chicago.
Gentlemen:—I am having so many inquiries regarding the ad. that you are now running, showing my picture, that I am sending you this letter for the benefit of the public that you may reproduce it, and I will state under oath, if you so desire, that I used Danderine for twenty consecutive months, and the average growth of my hair was one and one-fourth inches per month, making a total of twenty-five inches in twenty months. You are at liberty to use this letter underneath my picture, and by so doing will save me the trouble of answering the large number of inquiries which I am receiving daily. Sincerely,
Chicago, February 9, 1901.
Sarah Mac Comb

IF MORE PROOF OF MERIT IS NECESSARY WE CAN FURNISH IT.

HISTORIAN FISKE'S CAREER.

Eminent Author a Victim of the Heat at Gloucester, Mass.

Gloucester, Mass., July 6.—Prof. John Fiske of Cambridge, the famous lecturer and eminent historian, who died at the Hawthorne Inn, East Gloucester, Thursday, came to this city Wednesday afternoon and was taken seriously ill soon after arriving at the hotel. The cause of death was excessive heat, from which he had suffered for two days. John Fiske was born at Hartford, Conn., in 1842. His father died when he was 10 years old and he went to live with his great-grandfather. He showed great precocity while at school and when he entered Harvard in 1860 he was already an original investigator in history, philosophy and comparative philology. He graduated from the Harvard law school in 1865, but never practiced, giving his whole time to lecturing and literature. At the age of 30 he was famous as a scientist, author and philosopher and had become the friend and companion of Darwin, Spencer, Huxley and Tyndall. Prof. Fiske's first book, "Myths and Mythmakers," was published in 1872, and was followed two years later by "Outlines of Cosmic Philosophy," which was published in England. His other more important books are: "The Ideas of God," "The Destiny of Man," "American Political Ideas," "The Critical Period of American History," "The Beginnings of New England," and three volumes of essays.

Hopkins was slightly scratched on the cheek, while his adversary's sword arm was disabled.
